Leena advises clients in all kinds of competition law assignments and regulatory matters and is the head of our Healthcare and Pharmaceuticals practice. Before joining our firm, Leena worked at the Finnish Competition Authority, where she gained valuable experience when in charge of numerous high profile cases, including a cartel case that led to the highest fines ever imposed in Finland. She also led the authority's merger control team and was a member of its management. Her international experience includes working at the European Commission's Directorate General for Competition.
